QUARTERMASTER FOR THE 148TH

Capt. A. F. MacKechnie Appointed to New Battalion.

BAND HAS BEEN STARTED.

Two More McGill Graduates Receive Appointments as Officers Under Lt.-Col. Magee.

Capt. Archibald F. MacKechnie has been appointed quartermaster of the 148th Battalion under Lieut.-Col. A. A. Magee. Capt. MacKechnie joined the C.O.T.C. in the month of September, 1914, taking the lectures for the certificate, but did not take his examinations. During the summer Captain MacKechnie joined the Auxiliary Battalion, holding the rank of Battalion quartermaster-sergeant. However, the C.O.T.C. was not the beginning of his military career. For five years he was a member of the Glasgow Highlanders (Territorials). Captain MacKechnie attended Glasgow University, but did not complete his course. In private life he is secretary of the St. James's Club.

Of special interest to undergraduates is the recent appointment of two more McGill graduates as officers in the 148th.

Edmund Arbuckle Burke was educated at Bishop's College School, Lennoxville, and at McGill University, graduating as a B.C.L. in 1909. Mr. Burke, however, decided to take up operative work and proceeded to Europe to study. There he soon won his way into the front rank, singing for three years with the Royal Opera at Covent Garden, and subsequently with the Russian Opera at Drury Lane. At the outbreak of the war Mr. Burke was in Paris, but returned to Canada at once to take up military work. He was appointed a lieutenant in the 13th Scottish Light Dragoons. Last summer he was attached to the Cavalry Brigade at Valenciennes under Col. C. A. Smart, and was afterwards transferred to the divisional staff there as a D.C. to Brigadier-General John Hughes. Mr. Burke had the honor of singing just before Christmas in Ottawa, by command, before His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught in aid of the Red Cross Society.

His brother, Lieut. Maurice Burke, also a McGill man, joined the 23rd Battalion here under Col. Fisher, and is now at the front with the 3rd Battalion.

Henry Hadley, Jr., Sc. '06, was born in Montreal and educated at the High School and McGill University. He has been for some time the city engineer of Verdun. Mr. Hadley has always been active in athletics, especially in paddling, rowing and boxing, being a well-known member of the M. A. A. and Grand Trunk Railway Boating Club. Mr. Hadley has been a provisional lieutenant of the 13th Dragoons since 1914. In October last he joined the C.O.T.C.

Other provisional appointments as officers are Captain L. McMillan, formerly 11th Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, and Captain Andrew Fleming, McGill C.O. T.C. Attached for duty and instruction are: Lieuts. R. M. Hebdon, G. W. Megan, F. P. Collins and G. R. Starke.

At the present time, when so many men are answering the call of their country, and accepting their responsibilities; while at the same time, unfortunately, there are also a number of men who have no good reason for not coming forward, Colonel Magee felt that it was only right and proper that the former should receive every commendation and credit for coming forward and taking their share in the present crisis. Accordingly, arrangements have been made by which every man, after passing the doctor and being finally enrolled, will be photographed immediately he has been put into uniform, one copy of which will be hung up in a prominent place as an example to others, and a cabinet

LIEUT. E. B. HUGH-JONES.

Lieut. Hugh-Jones, a graduate of McGill with the class of Science '13, was wounded on October 8 after serving for some time with 96 Field Company, Royal Engineers. He has been awarded the Military Cross for distinguished conduct in the field. At McGill he was well known as a prominent boxer.

CAMPUS RINK TO BE OPENED

Tickets May Be Obtained From Faculty Representatives.

PRIVILEGES FOR SOLDIERS

Eric A. Cushing Appointed President of McGill Daily for 1916.

The Campus rink, which has this year been transferred to the lot on McTavish street, will be opened within a day or two, according to Tom Graydon, the groundskeeper. The rink and its operation formed the basis of the discussion at the regular meeting of the Students' Council held at the Union yesterday afternoon. Several applications from outside organizations were received by the Council for permission to make use of the rink, but these were in every case turned down owing to legal considerations. Permission, however, was granted to the University Settlement and to the McGill troop, Boy Scouts, to use the rink one night a week, the sum of $50 in each case being asked in order to cover maintenance. The Fifth Universities Company, P.P.C.L.L., was granted the privileges of the rink on the same basis as the students.

The newly-elected faculty representatives to the Council were appointed to supervise the sale of tickets for the rink throughout the faculties. Representatives in each class will be appointed by the faculty representatives to attend to the sale of these tickets in the classes. Tickets may also be obtained from the office of the Students' Council or at the rink.

Eric A. Cushing was appointed president of the McGill Daily for the current year.

Under ordinary circumstances the meeting held yesterday would have been the regular open meeting of the Council. Owing to the presence of so few men at the University, it was decided to hold the meeting of Monday, January 10th, as the monthly open meeting. Any student will be at liberty to attend after the completion of unfinished business. Should the accommodation offered by the Students' Council office prove inadequate, the Council is prepared to move to larger quarters.

MCGILL LOST TO THE M.A.A.A.

Andrews and Rooney Were Absent From Line-Up.

FINAL SCORE WAS 3-0.

McGill Forwards Could Not Keep Up With Pace Set by M.A.A.A.

With their captain, as well as one of the strongest of the forward men, absent from the line-up, the McGill Hockey Team went down to a 3 to 0 defeat before the fast M.A.A.A. aggregation in a scheduled City League contest played at the Arena last night. The men absent were Andrews and Rooney respectively. The team that represented the Red and White in last night's match was patched up as much as possible before the game started, so that when a McGill man was ruled off, Rochester, who is a goalkeeper usually, was put on to play on the forward line. This just about represents the sort of a team which were the McGill colors in the game with the M.A.A.A. team last night.

During the game itself, those men who wore the Red and White colors made a very good showing, and considering the fact that they have very seldom played together, the team did as well as could be desired. However, had Rooney and Andrews, two regular forward men, been on the line-up, there is no doubt but that McGill would have held the Winged Wheelers to a tie at the worst. As the situation was last evening, however, none of the players were given a chance to rest up during the game, while on the other hand the Red and Blue rested their players up at intervals, with the result that they set a fast pace from start to finish, which in the end resulted in the McGill defeat.

The M.A.A.A. team, which leads the City League at present, is undoubtedly one of the fastest amateur hockey teams in Eastern Canada to-day, their players showing up brilliantly on their skates, as well as giving a high class exhibition of stick-handling. The team played well together at all stages, although at times Harry Bell and Sharpe showed a tendency to "hog" the puck. McCullough and Scott were easily the pick of the Red and White, the former keeping up with the fast pace set by the M.A.A.A. forwards throughout the entire game, while the latter could not have played a better game in goals. At times Scott warded off shots which looked like certain goals, and had it not been for his stellar work the McGill team would have suffered a disastrous defeat.

The McGill team seemed to lack the necessary push to score goals in the game last night, and at the present it looks as if all that was really needed to make the team a winner is a good forward who can follow up his shots, and who can manage to be in the right place at the right moment. In last night's game, the McGill team lost many opportunities of tallying through the fact that whenever a player shot the puck from behind the nets in front of the goals, there was no McGill player on the spot to receive the pass and shoot the puck past the net-minder of the opposing team. The defence played in far better fashion, and had they been given a chance of resting up during the progress of the game, it is regarded as improbable that the M.A.A.A. would have even scored once.

Whitcomb and Hibbard cleared well during all stages of the game, but they never seemed to be able to bring the puck up into their opponent's territory with any marked success. The DEATH OF PTE. MACKELLAR.

Pte. D. W. MacKellar, of the 73rd Battalion, Royal Highlanders of Canada, died quite suddenly in the hospital last Thursday. MacKellar was an undergraduate in the Faculty of Arts, entering with the class of '17 and spending two years with that class. His intention was to enter Theology after graduating from Arts. Last fall MacKellar decided that his place was in the firing line, and with that end in view joined the 73rd.

The death of Pte. MacKellar will be a distinct loss to a large number of McGill men, as he was most popular with all his classmates. His home was in Glencoe, Ont.

This Week at the Play Houses

THE PRINCESS.

"Two Is Company," which is the musical comedy given this week at the Princess, is a play full of smart dialogue and fair singing. While there were not many musical numbers which stood out as especially good ones and could live in the memory for long, the general run was on a good plane, "Dimple," sung as a solo by Miss Amelia Stone in the role of Heloise, formed a thread song which ran on through the whole play at intervals, and was peculiarly catchy, though slight enough.

Miss Stone and Armand Kalisz both did well in the leading parts, while Dubois and Dupre, played by Harry Short and Edward A. Paulton, made a great hit with their comic scenes. "Who Says So?" was one song which was sung by these two, and was the main attraction. Mr. Ford and President Wilson both coming in for the usual jokes.

The scenery was extremely pretty, with striking light effects, while the Elite Girls and the Boulevard Boys gave some very prettily sung choruses.

On the whole "Two Is Company" is a show with lots of fun, and offers an evening's entertainment very pleasant indeed.

HIS MAJESTY.

The Driscoll Players presented "The Blindness of Virtue" before an enthusiastic audience last night. The play has a powerful moral, and shows the evil effects resulting from ignorance of life. The leading lady, Miss Olive Templeton, had ample opportunity to display her powers, and her acting brought forth the sympathies of the spectators. Much amusement and laughter was afforded by the clever remarks of "Cookie," the servant. Mr. Arnold bore the part of the Rev. Harry Pemberton extremely well, while Mr. Sullivan, as the wayward young man, was also well received. Between the acts the orchestra rendered several pleasing selections. Next week's offering is Mr. Harvey's greatest success, "A Message from Mars."

THE ORPHEUM.

The Orpheum has started the year well by giving one of the best vaudeville shows that has been in this city for a long while.

Miss Dorothy Shoemaker, of last season's stock company, appeared in "The Passing Play at Washington Square," written by Sidney Hirsch. Miss Shoemaker as usual displays successfully great emotional powers, and is supported by a clever cast.

Desiree Lubowska, an impressionistic character dancer, is exceptionally good. She uses three numbers in her programme—the first, Gavotte Grotesque, a futurist interpretation of those black and white caricatures so often seen in "Vogue." The second, "Egyptian Dance of Mourning." This dance was used by the maidens of ancient Egypt before Moses of the Pharaoh's period, and only used at the funeral pyre of the kings. The third, "Soul of Vanity"—peacock dance—Lubowska's original conception of feminine vanity, in which her soul is a mirror reflecting not to-day's realities, but to-day's dreams.

Andy Rice is good in his songs and stories.

There is some very clever roller skating given by Roy Harrah and company.

Horace Wright and Rene Dietrich appear in "A Happy Combination of Operatic and Popular Melodies" and are exceptionally good.

Great Howard, the ventriloquist, appears in "At the Doctor's," and takes very well.

Walter De Leon and "Muggins" Davies appear in their own original "Burlesque Movies." This is a take-off on the moving pictures and is quite clever.

THE GAYETY.

Billy Watson and his "Big Girlie Show" proved very popular with the patrons last evening. The production for the evening consisted of five scenes, in each of which Billy Watson starred as Abe Levy. The chorus was one of the best appearing at the Gayety for a long time, and their costumes were extremely pretty.

In the first scene Billy Watson as Abe Levy was in a continual mix-up with Mike Grogan, a dog fancier, who lived across the "alley." Hinkley, the policeman, interferes, but gets the worst of it. Abe, however, gains his point each time in his argument with the policeman, much to the amusement of the patrons.

In the second scene, entitled "The Lucky Girl," Billy was very amusing, acting as George Malvern's "Man of all Work." After preparing Malvern's dinner and finding him late, sat down himself and consumed nearly a loaf and a half of bread.

The musical numbers were far above the average. Annette Walker, who rendered a violin solo, was the chief feature.

White would have to yield before the efforts. Rowlands and Bell showed some wonderful combination by going all the way down the ice with the puck, but Rowland's shot was wide and did not gain his team anything. A moment later, Rowland received a pass from Arnold and rushed right in on Scott, but the latter saved in amazing fashion. The first period ended soon after with both teams scoreless.

M.A.A.A. Scored Three.

In the second period the fast pace which the Winged Wheel boys set began to tell on the Red and White, and as a result they tried badly. Whitcomb went up the ice, but his shot was very wide. McGill's attack was very weak, and it looked as if the Red and White would be unable to score during the contest. The game, however, grew more interesting, and a little later Arnold rushed up with Sharpe and passing the rubber perfectly to the latter, who scored the first goal of the contest.

The speed which the M.A.A.A. team were showing was too much for the McGill boys, who were playing an entirely defensive game. Bell's rushes down the ice were worrying the Red and White, and in a short time he went down the ice with Russel Read, who received a neat pass, and scored the second goal for the Winged Wheelers. Before the game ended, Bell scored a third for M.A.A.A. by following up a rebound from his shot at Scott.

The teams and summary:

McGill. M.A.A.A.

Whitcomb Defence Read
Hibbard Defence Spriggins

"BUSTER" REID
VERY POPULAR

Worshipped By His Men, Says
Capt. D. J. Evans.

WILL LOSE THREE FINGERS

News of Other McGill Men Now
On Active Service With Canadians.

"Buster" is absolutely worshipped by his men, and is one of the most cheerful men I have ever met. He is always the one to start the boys singing when things look blue," said Captain D. J. Evans, 23rd Battalion, C.E.F., to The Daily a few days ago, speaking of Lieut. G. Eric (Buster) Reid, the famous McGill footballer, now lying wounded in a London hospital. Capt. Evans, who is a former Boys' Work secretary of the Central Y.M.C.A., Montreal, brought a cheery message from Buster, who asks to be remembered to the student body.

Lieut. Reid, who has been twice wounded, now has a shrapnel wound in his thigh, and his left wrist shattered. He will probably lose the use of two or three fingers. It is not likely that he will be passed by the Medical Board for active service again, and after three or four months' sick leave may then be used for instructional purposes.

"Mighty Well Fixed."

Sergt. R. S. O'Meara, Arts '17, with the Sanitary Section, 2nd Division, C.E.F., writes as follows:

"Everything is going fine with us. Sergt. Hague (Science '14) and I now are in charge of a brigade area somewhere, and though by no means overworked, are kept pretty well on the go all the time with enough excitement to keep us warm. For some time we live in a dugout, quite a palatial affair, but the rain found us out, and we made a hurried exit. We now make our headquarters in a bullet-ridden farm house (the farm stock now consisting of one goat, six hens and two cats), whose sole other occupant is a toothless female of decidedly advanced age, who washes regularly once a week. She attempts to talk to Hague and myself in a horrible mixture of French, Flemish and English, helps us to prevent waste of Government rations, and spends the rest of her time in front of an enormous fire counting her beads and praying for victory to come soon to the British who have learned to love, but whose language is apparently beyond her. Talking it all round, we are mighty well fixed. Just how long we stay here is another question."

Quiet With the 42nd.

Lieut. J. Arthur Mathewson, Law '15, last year president of the Students' Council, writes as follows from the front, where he is with the 42nd Battalion, of Highlanders:

"Wishes or intentions would not write letters. If they did, you would have had one from me every week since I left."

"You know all that has happened to the 42nd, and what wonderfully good luck we've had, so I won't weary you with a long string of dates and facts. We have been brigaded with the Princess Pats, the 4th and the Royal Canadian Regiment (Regulars) as Army Corps troops. My regiment is lying behind the line, and all we have to do is to go out on working parties to fix up trenches, etc. There is very little excitement or thrill seeing the man next you plugging while shovelling earth into a sand bag. Bullets make a sharp crack when they hit, and at night it is very unpleasant to hear them striking near you, but after a few days you stop worrying about them and turn your mind to the much more interesting subject of 'What will the cook have for us to eat when the job is finished?'"

"The 42nd has really a most enjoyable life, and we are promised that

PATS RETURNING TO THE FIRM LINE

A letter received from a member of the First Universities Company, P.P.C.L.I., dated Dec. 16, states that the regiment expected to return to the trenches very shortly.

Notes About McGill Men.

Lieut. Eric Warburton, a former McGill man, who was assistant business manager of the McGill Daily under Lieut. W. E. G. Murray, has been awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal for bravery at Gallipoli, where he was severely wounded. Lieut. Warburton has received a commission in one of the Manchester regiments. He completed his course at King's College, Windsor, N.S.

Walter E. Soper, last year with Arts '18, has left for England to join the Royal Flying Corps.

Horace Cohen, Arts '15, who recently took the Royal School of Infantry course at Halifax, N.S., has been appointed captain and quartermaster of the 163rd Battalion, C.E.F.

Rene Perrault, Sci. '17, has received a commission as Lieutenant in the 150th Battalion, C.E.F.

Amongst those who are going up to Kingston next week to take the N.C.O. course in artillery are J. C. Farthing, Arts '18; S. J. Hodgson, Arts '19; J. B. Rutherford, Arts '18, and T. W. Marston, late of Sci. '18. All these men have been very active in college affairs. Jack Farthing was president of his class, Arts '18; was a news editor on The Daily secretary of the "Lit." on the class football team, an active member of the Y.M.C.A. Board, was in the C.O.T.C., and the reporter of the Historical Club, etc. Buller Rutherford was another member of the same class, who played on the Arts football team during last fall. Sid Hodgson was the president of Arts '19, and Buck Marston, who was one year with Sci. '18, played on the college hockey team.

Norman B. Allen, Arts '17, has secured a commission in the 110th Irish Battalion forming in Toronto. "Pat" is a well-known about college, and played on the Arts football team last fall. He is a member of the Union House committee and of the McGill Daily editorial staff.

DIED OF GAS POISONING.

Violet Richardson, aged 9 years, and her brother, Cyril, aged 7, died of gas poisoning during the holidays. The children's father, William Richardson, is employed in the Engineering Building.

Queen's hockey team will play Harvard in Boston Arena on January 8, and the St. Nicholas team in New York later.

QUARTERMASTER

photograph given to the man himself. It is only right and proper that all those who join for overseas service should receive the publicity and credit which their action entitles them to.

The N.C.O. class of the 148th continues to make excellent progress, and during the last week the number of men presenting themselves has steadily increased each day. While a number of these men have been unable to pass the physical and other requirements, the class has now reached large proportions. Col. Magee is insisting that the standard be maintained at its high point of excellence, and this regulation alone has attracted many to its ranks.

Those men who were not on leave for Christmas have had their turn over the New Year holidays, and are reported for duty again yesterday morning. A large number who had previously signed up and passed the medical officer, but were unable to close out their business arrangements until the end of the year, are reporting to-day and to-morrow.

The officers of the Battalion are immensely pleased with the progress made by the N.C.O. class. There are now nearly one hundred men enrolled and receiving training daily under Sergt-Major Outmore. The men are keen and are striving their utmost to make good and gain their stripes, and no one is more keen than Jack Hall, Sci. '14, the former manager of the McGill Rugby team. He is working overtime to make himself efficient and win promotion. Other McGill men are also showing the benefit of their C.O.T.C. training, and have considerable advantage over other members of the class. It is Colonel Magee's intention that upon the completion of the present class, another N.C.O. class will be started, commencing towards the end of January.

There are some 150 N.C.O. positions in an overseas battalion, principally made up of: 1 battalion sergeant-major, 1 battalion quartermaster-sergeant, 4 company sergeant-majors, 4 quartermaster-sergeants, 16 platoon sergeants and 34 sergeant section commanders. There are in addition 42 corporals and 51 lance corporals.

Owing to the number of applicants for the present class, Lieut-Col. Magee was able to select only the most likely men for training.

Each applicant is now required to be vouched for by some member of the class, or present satisfactory references. This has been found necessary in order to keep the type up to standard, and also owing to the fact that at the beginning a few men misrepresented their past record, character and training; they soon showed their undesirability by misconducting themselves and were accordingly immediately discharged. Lieut-Colonel Magee proposes enforcing the strictest discipline, and will not stand for any member conducting himself in such a manner as to bring discredit on the Battalion or on the men who are striving in their efforts to make themselves efficient and serve their country to the best of their ability.

The group or pal system adopted has proved its success already. Among the N.C.O.'s are many who, when recruiting starts, will be joined by groups of their friends. The best evidence of this is the fact that five representatives have already been sent to the N.C.O. class from Argenteuil County, where it is hoped a whole company will be formed to join the 148th.

The officers and N.C.O.'s of the Battalion have had the services during the past two weeks, for instruction in bayonet fighting and physical instruction of two staff sergeant instructors from Aldershot, who have been sent to Canada to instruct the Divisional School of Bayonet Fighting and Physical Training which started here under the charge of Capt. Nobbs.

Among the recent additions are: Herbert W. Connor, who came specially from Dorchester, Mass., to enlist, as he felt it was up to him to do so. Connor was born in Liverpool, and was a member of the 5th Battalion, King's Liverpool Regiment, for five years. On arrival at Montreal he obtained such good accounts of the N.C.O. class of the 148th that he came straight up to headquarters and was enrolled.

H. H. Shepherd, born in Orlong, Ill., served three years with the 18th U.S. Infantry Regiment. He has been living in Montreal for the last few years.

Douglas McDuff, who has been a member of the Grenadier Guards for the past year, is following in his father's footsteps, the latter being now at the front with the 42nd Battalion.

Last week Reginald Fuller, who has been associated as sergeant drummer with the McGill Contingent, C.O.T.C., and Auxiliary Battalions, signed on with the 148th in the same rank. Fuller is a Brantford man, and a metallurgist, and has had an extended experience in military work, having been five years in the 38th Battalion, Dufferin Rifles. He received his training as a drummer bugler under Sergeant Drummer Offen, of the Royal Canadian Rifles, Toronto.

Several have now been taken on to form the nucleus of the band. These have all had previous experience. As it is the intention to form a full brass band in addition to the bugle band, there is a splendid opportunity for bandmen, buglers and drummers in the 148th.

FRESHMAN IN LAW
TAKES A BRIDE

John G. Ahern Married to Mlle. Jeanne Marcell of Montreal.

The marriage was solemnized last week in the Church of the Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal, of Jeanne, daughter of the Hon. Charles Marcell, M.P., and Madame Marcell, to John G. Ahern, Law '18, son of the late Dr. Michael J. Ahern, of Quebec. The church was effectively decorated for the occasion with palms and white roses. Rev. Father Bourque officiated at the ceremony which was fully choral. As the bride party entered the church, Prof. Saucier played the wedding march from Lohengrin, and Mendelssohn's wedding march at the close of the service. During the ceremony Gounod's Montez a Dieu and Saint-Saens' "Ave Maria" were sung by Prof. Saucier, with Madame Saucier playing the accompaniments, and Miss Forrest sang O Salutaris, while at the Mass a pastoral was played by M. Armand Prud'homme. The bride wore a travelling costume of dark blue velvet with small black hat, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her father, and the bridegroom was attended by his brother, Dr. George Ahern, of Quebec. Shortly after the wedding service, Mr. and Mrs. Ahern left for a trip to New York and Washington, and upon their return they will reside in the Mount Royal Apartments, Outremont.

On Active Service With Canadians.

"Buster" is absolutely worshipped by his men, and is one of the most cheerful men I have ever met. He is always the one to start the boys singing when things look blue," said Captain D. J. Evans, 23rd Battalion, C.E.F., to The Daily a few days ago, speaking of Lieut. G. Eric (Buster) Reid, the famous McGill footballer, now lying wounded in a London hospital. Capt. Evans, who is a former Boys' Work secretary of the Central Y.M.C.A., Montreal, brought a cheery message from Buster, who asks to be remembered to the student body.

Lieut. Reid, who has been twice wounded, now has a shrapnel wound in his thigh, and his left wrist shattered. He will probably lose the use of two or three fingers. It is not likely that he will be passed by the Medical Board for active service again, and after three or four months' sick leave may then be used for instructional purposes.

"Mighty Well Fixed."

Sergt. R. S. O'Meara, Arts '17, with the Sanitary Section, 2nd Division, C.E.F., writes as follows:

"Everything is going fine with us. Sergt. Hague (Science '14) and I (two are nearly all wearing stripes now) are in charge of a brigade area 'somewhere,' and though by no means overworked, are kept pretty well on the go all the time with enough excitement to keep us warm. For some time we live in a dugout, quite a palatial affair, but the rain found us out, and we made a hurried exit. We now make our headquarters in a bullet-ridden farm of one room, six hens and two cats, whose sole other occupation is a toothless female of decidedly advanced age, who washes regularly once a week. She attempts to talk to Hague and myself in a horrible mixture of French, Flemish and English, helps us to prevent waste of Government rations, and spends the rest of her time in front of an enormous fire counting her beads and praying for victory to come soon to the British she has learned to love, but whose language is apparently beyond her. Talking it all round, we are mighty well fixed. Just how long we stay here is another question."

Quiet With the 42nd.

Lieut. J. Arthur Mathewson, Law '15, last year president of the Students' Council, writes as follows from the front, where he is with the 42nd Battalion of Highlanders:

"Wishes or intentions won't write letters. If they did, you would have had one from me every week since I left.

"You know all that has happened to the 42nd, and what wonderfully good luck we've had, so I won't weary you with a long string of dates and facts. We have been brigaded with the Princess Pats, the 43rd and the Royal Canadian Regiment (regulars) as Army Corps troops. My regiment is lying behind the line, and all we have to do is to go out on working parties to fix up trenches, etc. There is very little excitement or thrill seeing the man next you plugging while shovelling earth into a sand bag. Bullets make a sharp crack when they hit, and at night it is very unpleasant to hear them striking near you, but after a few days you stop worrying about them and turn your mind to the much more interesting subject of 'What will the cook have for us to eat when the job is finished?'

"The 42nd has really a most enjoyable life, and we are promised that

PATS RETURNING TO THE FIRING LINE

whenever a big scrap comes along we will get into it.

"There are a great many McGill men here now, but there are too many still at home. We often talk about the ones that haven't come yet, and those who have real reasons are looked on as unlucky beggars who are forced to miss the chance of a life time to do something; but the ones who have no real reason, the ones who make our boys spend four days up to their waists in mud and water in the front line, but there are not enough men to split the task and make it two-day shifts, or to take over the job and let our boys have a few days' complete rest. These shirkers had better enjoy themselves now while they can, for God help them when the show is over! This letter is becoming serious, isn't it? I must change the subject, but before I do, let me say that they talk of conscription spreading to Canada. Personally, I don't care whether it is enforced there or not, but if I could help it, I would not die in the same field as a man who had to be forced to come. Remember me to all the boys."

Notes About McGill Men.

Lieut. Eric Warburton, a former McGill man, who was assistant business manager of the McGill Daily under Lieut. W. E. G. Murray, has been awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal for bravery at Gallipoli, where he was severely wounded. Lieut. Warburton has received a commission in one of the Manchester regiments. He completed his course at King's College, Windsor, N.S.

Walter E. Soper, last year with Arts '18, has left for England to join the Royal Flying Corps.

Horace Cohen, Arts '15, who recently took the Royal School of Infantry course at Halifax, N.S., has been appointed captain and quartermaster of the 163rd Battalion, C.E.F.

Rene Perrault, Sci. '17, has received a commission as lieutenant in the 150th Battalion, C.E.F.

Amongst those who are going up to Kingston next week to take the N.C.O. course in artillery are J. C. Farthing, Arts '18; S. J. Hodgson, Arts '19; J. B. Ruthford, Arts '18, and T. W. Marson, late of Sci. '18. All these men have been very active in college affairs. Jack Farthing was president of his class, Arts '18; was a news editor on The Daily, secretary of the "Lit." on the class football team, an active member of the Y.M.C.A. Board, was in the C.O.T.C., and the reporter of the Historical Club, etc. Butler Ruthford was another member of the same class, who played on the Arts football team during last fall. Sid Hodgson was the president of Arts '19, and Buck Marson, who was one year with Sci. '18, played on the college hockey team.

Norman B. Allen, Arts '17, has secured a commission in the 110th Irish Battalion forming in Toronto. "Pat" is a well-known about college, and played on the Arts football team last fall. He is a member of the Union House committee and of the McGill Daily editorial staff.

DIED OF GAS POISONING.

photograph given to the man himself. It is only right and proper that all those who join for overseas service should receive the publicity and credit which their action entitles them to. The N.C.O. class of the 148th continues to make excellent progress, and during the last week the number of men presenting themselves has steadily increased each day. While a number of these men have been unable to pass the physical and other requirements, the class has now reached large proportions. Col. Magee is insisting that the standard be maintained at its high point of excellence, and this regulation alone has attracted many to his ranks.

Those men who were not on leave for Christmas have had their turn over the New Year holidays, and all reported for duty again yesterday morning. A large number who had previously signed up and passed the medical officer, but were unable to close out their business arrangements until the end of the year, are reporting to-day and to-morrow.

The officers of the Battalion are immensely pleased with the progress made by the N.C.O. class. There are now nearly one hundred men enrolled and receiving training daily under Sergt-Major Cuthbert. The men are keen and are striving their utmost to make good and gain their stripes, and no one is more keen than Jack Hall, Sci. '14, the former manager of the McGill Rugby team. He is working overtime to make himself efficient and win promotion. Other McGill men are also showing the benefit of their C.O.T.C. training, and have considerable advantage over other members of the class. It is Colonel Magee's intention that upon the completion of the present class, another N.C.O. class will be started, commencing towards the end of January.

There are some 150 N.C.O. positions in an overseas battalion, principally made up of: 1 battalion sergeant-major, 1 battalion quartermaster-sergeant, 4 company sergeant-majors, 4 quartermaster-sergeants, 16 platoon sergeants and 34 sergeant section commanders. There are in addition 42 corporals and 51 lance corporals. Owing to the number of applicants for the present class, Lieut-Col. Magee was able to select only the most likely men for training.

Each applicant is now required to be vouched for by some member of the class, or present satisfactory references. This has been found necessary in order to keep the type up to standard, and also owing to the fact that at the beginning a few men misrepresented their past record, character and training; they soon showed their undesirability by misconducting themselves and were accordingly immediately discharged. Lieut-Colonel Magee proposes enforcing the strictest discipline, and will not stand for any member conducting himself in such a manner as to bring discredit on the Battalion or on the men who are striving in their efforts to make themselves efficient and serve their country to the best of their ability.

The group or pal system adopted has proved its success already. Among the N.C.O.'s are many who, when recruiting starts, will be joined by groups of their friends. The best evidence of this is the fact that five representatives have already been sent to the N.C.O. class from Argenteuil County, where it is hoped a whole company will be formed to join the 148th.

The officers and N.C.O.'s of the Battalion have had the services during the past two weeks, for instruction in bayonet fighting and physical instruction of two staff sergeant-instructors from Aldershot, who have been sent to Canada to instruct the Divisional School of Bayonet Fighting and Physical Training which started here under the charge of Capt. Nobbs.

Among the recent additions are: Herbert W. Connor, who came specially from Dorchester, Mass., to enlist, as he felt it was up to him to do so. Connor was born in Liverpool, and was a member of the 5th Battalion, King's Liverpool Regiment, for five years. On arrival at Montreal he obtained such good accounts of the N.C.O. class of the 148th that he came straight up to headquarters and was enrolled.

H. H. Shepherd, born in Orlong, Ill., served three years with the 18th U.S. Infantry Regiment. He has been living in Montreal for the last few years.

Douglas McDuff, who has been a member of the Grenadier Guards for the past year, is following in his father's footsteps, the latter being now at the front with the 42nd Battalion.

Last week Reginald Fuller, who has been associated as sergeant drummer with the McGill Contingent, C.O.T.C., and Auxiliary Battalions, signed on with the 148th in the same rank. Fuller is a Bramford man, and a metalurgist, and has had an extended experience in military work, having been five years in the 38th Battalion, Dufferin Rifles. He received his training as a drummer bugler under Sergeant Drummer Offen, of the Royal Canadian Rifles, Toronto.

Several have now been taken on to form the nucleus of the band. These have all had previous experience. As it is the intention to form a full brass band in addition to the bugle band, there is a splendid opportunity for bandmen, buglers and drummers in the 148th.

FRESHMAN IN LAW TAKES A BRIDE

John G. Ahern Married to Mlle. Jeanne Marcell of Montreal.

The marriage was solemnized last week in the Church of the Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal, of Jeanne, daughter of the Hon. Charles Marcell, M.P., and Madame Marcell, to John G. Ahern, Law '18, son of the late Dr. Michael J. Ahern, of Quebec. The church was effectively decorated for the occasion with palms and white roses. Rev. Father Bourque officiated at the ceremony which was fully choral. As the bridal party entered the church, Prof. Saucier played the wedding march from Lohengrin, and Mendelssohn's wedding march at the close of the service. During the ceremony Gounod's Montez a Dieu and Saint-Saens' "Ave Maria" were sung by Prof. Saucier, with Madame Saucier playing the accompaniments, and Miss Forrest sang O Salutaris, while at the Mass a pastoral was played by M. Armand Prud'homme. The bride wore a travelling costume of dark blue velvet with small black hat, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her father, and the bridegroom was attended by his brother, Dr. George Ahern, of Quebec. Shortly after the wedding service, Mr. and Mrs. Ahern left for a trip to New York and Washington, and upon their return they will reside in the Mount Royal Apartments, Outremont.
